Correct Job Work Here

Manhattan, Montana
Theodore Essex and Elbert Van Hoosier visited John Stone last week.

Montana is growing every day. There is a new town growing up south of Manhattan on the Northern Pacific R. R. by the name of Amsterdam.

Crops are fine in these parts this fall and wheat a reasonable good price.

We are having fine weather now, the coldest its been this fall was fifteen below zero.

The writer is thinking of taking up a homestead.

I think this is a fine country for health anyway.

I heard a minister say he had preached in quite a few places and this was the only one that there hadn't been two or three deaths, and he has been here twenty-one months.

Every time Brown Essex starts out for a drive his team wants to go to Mrs. Hulls'. You find them at the same old hitching post every Sunday afternoon.

The writer spent Thursday with Miss Hazel Hulls.

Cousin A. B. why don't you write to the Herald?

It seems like most of the young people of Putnam county are getting married of late; I heard the writer was going to get married, but I don't believe everything I hear.

I sure would enjoy some of those good meetings you people are having in old Tennessee, but am glad we can live christians anywhere. MOLLIE ESSEX.

Tyler, Okla.

Dear Editor Herald: Will you please let me in one cosy little corner for a few words. I am a dear lover of old Tennessee, especially Putnam county, as I have so many friends there.

I will try and jot down a few lines from a little country town 4 miles from railroad and 19 from Madill, the county seat. Tyler is one of the greatest little towns in Oklahoma, the streets are pure black mud when it rains and walks are white rocks.

The writer is done picking cotton and is not sorry of it for he don't like to pick cotton. I like Oklahoma fine only when the northern sand storms and cyclones come; then you see this chicken walk about.

I'm always glad when I get the Herald it's like letters from home. Come on Oklahoma City boys, I know you. There are lots of Tennessee people out here. Some of you Tennessee boys who never saw a jack rabbit better come to Oklahoma; we had an old man from Tennessee with us some time ago, who hadn't seen a J. R. so he and a hunting party were out on the prairie on a sheep ranch and the dogs started a muleear and the old man was out on one side by himself as the dogs brought him around, so he taken in after the dogs pelting them very severely with stones and crying let that lamb alone, you fools. That's only one of the many incidents which happen in this wild west. Jumbo.

Heated Contest Now On

Anxious Candidates are Working Hard to Win the Prize. Just Think What a Splendid Prize Will be Given Away

I am well pleased to see the amount of energy that is being put forward in the contest for this standard piano by the candidates. Everything is lively and the piano seems to be on the precipice with deep holes at the bottom. You don't know which hole it will drop in or which candidate's home it will be placed in.

Remember, that there are five pianos to go, one absolutely free to the candidate receiving the largest number of votes and four others at a small cost to the next four candidates.

Is your girl in the race? Or your friend? If so, you can help her by getting votes and placing them to her credit.

These votes can be secured by subscribing to the Herald and paying for one year, for which you will receive 100 votes or by trading with W. T. Anderson, of Boma, who will give 500 votes on every dollar received on merchandise and accounts during December. Don't fail to pay your account this month and save the extra votes. If you are not a subscriber to the Herald, send in your subscriptions at once and cast your ballot for the young lady you admire. If you are already a subscriber and are in arrears, pay up and do likewise.
